ECC launches ECP eLearning course

The Employees' Compensation Commission launched on 10 December 2014 the Employees' Compensation Program eLearning course as it joins in the inauguration of the Department of Labor and Employment Labor Governance Learning Center (LGLC) eLearning System.

The online course can be accessed by enrolling at elearning.dole.gov.ph. The ECP course discusses the basic information about the ECP. It has a short video about the ECC and its benefits and services.

ECC Executive Director Stella Banawis explained that this online course is a venue for the ECC to inform the workers of the rights and benefits they can receive from the ECC in case they will meet any work-related sickness or injuries.

"We have also come up with this kind of medium to be more proactive as regards to information dissemination. Since people nowadays are internet user, online course is one of the best ways to reach out to the workers," Banawis added.

This effort of institutionalization of the DOLE eLearning program was initiated by Labor and Employment Secretary Rosalinda

ECC extends a helping hand to Persons with Work-Related Disabilities in Region 11

Persons with work-related disabilities (PWRDs) in Region 11 find economic hope through the Employees' Compensation Program upon receiving benefits under its Ka-Gabay (Katulong at Gabay sa Manggagawang may Kapansanan) Program.

Antonio Capillanes, Fernando Saraum, Rogel Tampus and Aimie Tao received from the KaGabay Program free training with starter kit on Meat Processing at Pangkabuhayan Seminar Center in Davao City.

"We are very grateful that ECC gives us this opportunity to have our own micro-business. ECC helped us beyond our expectation," Capillanes, a former repairman of Globe Telecom, remarked during the training.

mented that the KaGabay Program is of great help for PWRDs like them who had no chance of reemployment as KaGabay will enable them to restart their lives for the better despite their disabilities.

Prior to the training, the said workers were granted free sessions in physical therapy where all expenses including transportation and meals were shouldered by the Employees Compensation Commission.

"In my entire employment, never have I heard of any Government agencies whose function does not end on giving monetary compensation to victims of work-connected contingencies but also rehabilitate the disabled worker both physically and occupationally," Fernando Saraum, a former seaman, stated.

He expressed joy over the thought that, after his accident in the ship, he now has the means to support his family's needs through the home-based micro-business that ECC provided.

"We hope that the ECC could extend its beneficial programs to all persons with work-related disabilities in the region," Rogel Tampus expressed.

"Not all workers in the region know that the Employees' Compensation Commission, an attached agency of the Department of Labor and Employment, provides meaningful and appropriate compensation to victims of work-related injury, sickness and death," added Tampus.

Dimapiliz-Baldoz as part of her roadmap to a nation with well-equipped employees. All bureaus, services and attached agencies of DOLE developed and submitted modules for the LGLC eLearning system.

The LGLC eLearning System is created for distance learners and workers are encouraged to grab the opportunity to learn about the DOLE's services through its newly set online facility.

ECC brings new hope to a box maker

Roberto Eroisa was a dedicated and a hardworking box maker of Asahi Glass Corporation in Cagayan de Oro City. One day, while cleaning his workplace, two thick ply of glass fell towards him which resulted to his right arm amputation. Because of the accident, Eroisa was not able to go back to work since he will be unable to perform his job due to his condition.

Five years after the accident, Eroisa was advised by the SSS to visit the ECC office in Cagayan de Oro. He found a new hope that maybe there are other benefits he can avail

8,610.00 due to loss of work. First, he availed the vocational training in which the ECC shouldered the tuition fee. In just two months, he was able to finish the training program on Computer Hardware Servicing.

A rehabilitation doctor advised Eroisa to undergo physical therapy. Thus, he underwent twenty sessions of free physical therapy under the ECC KaGabay Program. On October 21, 2014, he was granted by the ECC an above elbow mechanical hand prosthesis amounting to Php 145,000.00.

under the EC Program as he was unemployed since the accident happened.

Upon visiting the ECC office, he was assessed to undergo the services provided under the KaGabay Program since he already received a cash benefit amounting to Php ing him a new hope in life. He not only acquired new skills and received a prosthesis, but he gained confidence through the help of ECC. He is now looking for a job in order to support his family and to show ECC that all the programs he availed are all worth it.

ECC Executive Director Stella Z. Banawis gives words of encouragements during the Christmas party of Persons with Work-Related Disabilities (PWRDs) held at the 3rd floor of the ECC Building on December 10, 2014.
